

References (in case a bibliographic entry is in Cyrillic script) should be transliterated in Latin letters (see Guideline); if a source is in English, it should be designed according to the bibliographic standard APA (Harvard style) (<http://library.albany.edu/cfox#top>). In case the author does not supply transliteration in Latin letters, it is necessary to make additional payment for translator's services, particularly 50 UAH per one page.

Works of the authors, quoted in the article, should be marked in the text in square brackets according to the number of the works in the list of references.

Requirements to each issue should be supplemented with e-mails of corresponding editorial panels.
